Introduction

McMaster University provides a comprehensive Total Rewards program for employees in The Management Group (TMG) that is designed to attract, develop, engage and retain high calibre leaders who are critical to the University’s continued success. The information in this Policy is intended to align with the Total Rewards Philosophy for TMG. An excerpt of the Total Rewards Philosophy Statement for TMG follows:

The Total Rewards program for TMG is designed to be competitive and to recognize and reward individual performance. In keeping with this philosophy, the Total Rewards program for TMG provides salary ranges targeted at the 60th percentile² of the defined market, pay relative to performance, competitive benefits, performance and recognition programs, promotes internal equity, supports the maintenance of pay equity, and operates in a financially responsible manner (now and in the future). The two key foundational elements that underpin the Total Rewards program design are:

- Pay for performance; and
- Salary ranges targeted at the 60th percentile of the defined market.

McMaster University is committed to maintaining the Total Rewards program and ensuring that it operates in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations and that related practices promote internal equity and ease of administration. The University reserves the right to amend this Policy and related guidelines from time to time.

Purpose

This Policy defines and outlines the Total Rewards program provisions for employees in TMG who are covered by this Policy.

Definitions

Definitions of key terms can be found in Appendix A.

Scope

This Policy governs the total rewards provisions for all employees who are entering, or are currently in, TMG.

Total Rewards Program Approvals

The Total Rewards program for TMG is subject to regular review and update, which may require approvals up to and including that of the McMaster University Board of Governors.

Policy

1. Designation of a Position as TMG

Human Resources is responsible for determining whether a position is classified as TMG or included in another employee group. The job description is the primary basis of this determination.

2. Job Descriptions for Positions in TMG

All positions in TMG must have a job description that clearly outlines the job purpose, accountabilities, qualifications, dimensions and working conditions.

3. Job Evaluation and Determination of Band

All job descriptions for positions confirmed in TMG must be evaluated to determine the Band of the position. Each Band has an associated salary range within which compensation is administered.

² Throughout this document, references to cash compensation target at the 60th percentile of the defined market reflect the current practice. The cash compensation target is subject to review and change at the sole discretion of the University.

4. Market Competitiveness

Salary ranges are targeted to the 60th percentile of the defined market. The defined market for TMG is:

- Bands F – I: Local Market (Hamilton, Burlington and surrounding area)
- Bands J – M: Regional Market (Hamilton, Toronto, South Western Ontario)
- Bands N – Q: National Market (All Canada)

The market competitiveness target is subject to review and update, normally annually, at the sole discretion of the University.

5. Salary Ranges and Structure

Each Band has a salary range within which employees' salaries are administered. The salary range will consist of a Minimum, a Target, and a Maximum. The Target is currently set to the 60th percentile of the defined market. The salary range is further divided into zones which reflect the design of the salary range structure, as per the following illustration:

Salary Range:

Zones:

a. Progressing Zone

The Progressing Zone is between the Minimum of the salary range and 94.9% of the Target and is the Normal Range for Hiring. Employees progress towards the Target Zone through performance-based increases that are determined in the annual performance and salary review processes.

b. Target Zone

The Target Zone is the portion of the range that is between 95% and 104.9% of the Target.

Employees' salaries are administered within the salary range for the applicable band. Over time, dependent on individual performance and through application of the annual performance and salary review processes, the majority of employees can expect to be compensated in the Target Zone of the salary range for the position they hold.

c. High Performance Zone

The High Performance Zone is the portion of the range that is between 105% of the Target and the Maximum of the salary range.

The High Performance Zone is intended for employees who have achieved and demonstrated consistent and ongoing outstanding performance.

6. Annual Adjustment to Salary Ranges

Salary ranges are adjusted on an annual basis to maintain the University's desired relationship to the defined market.

The effective date of salary range changes is normally the first day of the first full pay period following July 1st. Adjustments to the salary ranges require approvals up to and including that of the Board of Governors.

7. Administration of Employee Salaries

Employees will be paid in accordance with the approved Band and the corresponding salary range for the position they hold. For those TMG who work less than full-time, the salary range for the position they hold will be pro-rated accordingly.

8. Responsibility of Management for Individual Salaries

Managers are responsible to manage staff salary levels in accordance with performance within this policy and other relevant policies and guidelines.

Managers are encouraged to periodically review the employee's compa-ratio in consideration of performance, time in the job, and internal equity to determine whether any adjustments are required. Anomaly increases are permitted for this purpose.

9. Establishing Salaries for New Hires, Job Transfer, Re-evaluation or Anomaly Adjustment

a. New Hires, Including Internal Transfers from Other Employee Groups

Salaries for new hires, including internal transfers from other employee groups, will be established in consideration of the candidate's relevant skills and experience and internal equity. Managers are expected to follow the norms outlined in the Guidelines for Cash Compensation Administration for Employees in TMG.

b. Job Transfer within TMG

A salary increase may be awarded in the following circumstances:

Type of Change	Description	Salary Increase Indicated

In no circumstance can the employee’s salary be above the Maximum of the new position. If the job change is due to a reorganization, time-limited salary protection, which may include red-circling, will apply.

Managers are expected to follow the norms outlined in the Guidelines for Cash Compensation Administration for Employees in TMG.

c. Re-evaluation of a TMG Job

A salary increase may be awarded in the following circumstances:

Type of Change	Salary Increase Indicated
Increase of 1 or more Bands	Yes
No change in Band	No
Decrease of 1 or more Bands	No If the job has been redesigned due to a broader reorganization, time-limited salary protection, which may include red-circling, will apply.

d. Anomaly Adjustments

Anomaly adjustments will be permitted where an employee’s base salary no longer reflects performance or market. Managers are expected to follow the norms for anomaly adjustments outlined in the Guidelines for Cash Compensation Administration for Employees in TMG.

10. Controls and Approvals Required for Establishing Salaries

Appropriate controls and approval levels will be maintained to ensure equity prevails.

The establishment and ongoing administration of salaries for new hires, on job transfer or re-evaluation, or anomaly adjustments are subject to the controls and approvals that follow. Refer to the Guidelines for Cash Compensation Administration for Employees in TMG for the practices to be followed for the establishment of salaries at initial hire and the ongoing administration of salaries for employees in TMG.

Each Band has a corresponding salary range within which incumbents of jobs are administered.
