6 RESPONSIBILITIES

6.1 Role of Senior Managers (Deans, Chairs, Directors):

Senior Managers shall:

- Ensure domestic animals are not present in the workplace in order to minimize risk to the animal, the University community or visitors.
- Allow only animals used for primarily teaching and research and in accordance with the Policy on the Care and Use of Animals in Research and Teaching.
- Allow only therapy dogs (ie. exam support dogs) that meet the requirements as per this program.
- Ensure that exemptions relating to Service Animals and Service Animals in Training are respected.

6.2 Role of Supervisors (Academic & Administrative):

The Supervisors shall:

- Allow only animals used for primarily teaching and research and in accordance with the University Animal Ethics Policy under the Supervisor's control;
- Ensure any research involving domestic animals that does not fall under the Policy on the Care and Use of Animals in Research and Teaching (example: therapy dogs) is reviewed and approved by EOHSS;
- Advise Security Services and EOHSS when they become aware of any animal being used, housed or accommodated in any office, food handling area, common area or laboratory; and,
- Instruct the animal's owner to remove the animal immediately.
- Ensure that exemptions relating to Service Animals and Service Animals in Training are respected.

6.3 Individuals (Faculty, Staff, Students and Visitors):

Individuals who own domestic animals:

- Shall not bring the animals to work or in any manner, use, house or accommodate the animals in any office, laboratory or other area inside the workplace.
- When walking or exercising the animal on campus property, shall keep the animal on a leash and under control at all times; and,
- While exercising the dog on campus may be required to remove them from the campus if the University feels the animals poses a real threat to the health and safety of other animals or the University Community.
- When walking or exercising an animal on campus property, provide for the clean-up and sanitary disposal of scat (droppings).
